

This report provides a summary of progress that the College has made in relation to the recommendations of the Leadership Review 2015. For each recommendation, it sets out what the College has delivered to date, planned next steps and related evaluation and/or review activity.

The College will now work with the key delivery partners to conduct a gap analysis looking ahead to delivery of the Policing Vision 2025 and checking back to the overall aims of the Review. This check will determine whether any additional activity is needed alongside the ongoing programme.

In light of that work, and as further progress is made, you can expect further communications from the partners on our future delivery plans.

This report is available electronically on the Leadership Review web page

The Home Office should review whether existing structures, powers and authorities in policing are sufficient to support consistent implementation of these recommendations

The 2017 Policing and Crime Act gave the College powers in respect to the setting of ranks. Plans in respect of powers to develop a licence to practise scheme were developed but were put on hold, following the 2017 general election.
