Resources to support officers and staff working in neighbourhood policing

Listicle 3 mins read

This page provides quick access to resources such as guidance, articles and case studies relating to neighbourhood policing. There are also links to practice bank examples, which are shared interventions that have been implemented by crime reduction and community safety organisations, including policing.

For our College Learn (MLE) resources you will need to be logged in.

Neighbourhood policing training programme

We have introduced a national training programme for neighbourhood police officers and police community support officers (PCSOs) across England and Wales. The neighbourhood policing programme part one \(NPP1\) is designed to equip frontline police officers and police community support officers (PCSOs) working in neighbourhood policing with the essential skills and knowledge they need to deliver a trusted and effective service to the public.

Problem solving

Problem-solving, or problem-orientated policing as it's sometimes known, is an approach used to tackle crime and disorder. The approach often uses the SARA (scanning, analysis, response, assessment) model to navigate problem solving.
